18TH YEAR - NO. 24 THURSDAY JUNE 14, 1973 FIFTEEN CENTS

BEFORE THE TOWN MEETING

$60 tax rate predicted for Wilmington

Sterling Morris, Town Manager of Wilmington, predicted Monday night in the selectmen's meeting that the tax rate for Wilmington would increase $8, in 1973, and added that his figures were based on money the town had appropriated "before the special Town Meeting of June 25th".

That would put the tax rate of Wilmington at about $60 for 1973, with still more costs to come from the appropriations of June 25.

The announcement of the Town Manager was one of a number of highlights of the selectmen's meeting of June 11.

Among other things the selectmen discussed the role of the Wilmington Historical Commission, the studies of the Solid Waste Disposal Committee, a change in the purchasing procedures for the Wilmington public schools and the troubles of the Wilmington Water Department. Another highlight was the election of Barbara Larson of Middlesex Avenue to the Wilmington Housing Authority. Mrs. Larson has been very active for several years in senior citizens affairs.

The school purchasing system was revised, at the insistance of John Brooks and acting Superintendent of Schools Derek Little.

No longer will the school purchase order forms have to be approved by the Town Manager. The effect will be the savings of several weeks in time, and some paper work, the selectmen were told.

It didn't get through easily. For fifteen or twenty minutes the selectmen inspected the idea from all sides, looking for a possible snare. The approval when it came was unanimous.

The proposal was in line with a report of Price Waterhouse & Co., who have been doing a financial study, for the town.

Historical Committee

All five members of the Wilmington Historical Committee met with the Selectmen for a meeting that dragged on and dragged on. The problem was caused by the Historical Committee not having had a chance to have a meeting and discuss its aims, and by some of the Selectmen wanting to direct the committee. It took a lot of talking.

Basically the question was: Did the Historical Committee, and did the Selectmen want to accept certain sections of the state law concerning historical committees? No one knew, but opinions were offered, almost any type of opinion.

Bill Meyers of the Historical Committee thought the committee should meet first, before offering opinions. Mr. Miceli wanted an article in the warrant anyway, and have it withdrawn if necessary. Mike Caira thought it was an insult to the committee to have the selectmen telling them what to do. Almost everyone was in favor of taking the Rounds house by eminent domain except Boylen and Caira, who pointed out that the idea as presented had no legal standing. Gillis, in answer to a question, guessed that it might cost the town $75 thousand to take the old homestead.

An article was finally voted for the warrant, after Chairman Jim Banda carefully explained that the selectmen were not sponsoring the article, just allowing it to get on the warrant. The vote was three to two, Gillis, Miceli and Banda voting in favor, and Boylen and Caira against.

After the vote Mr. Boylen said that he felt the Historical Committee should get signs up, showing where things had happened in town - like where the first Minute Men met.

This was greeted with open arms by Bill Meyers - "Now we know something - that's what we came here for!"

THE SHAWSHEEN TECH SCHOOL COMMITTEE: And members of their staff posed for the camera, Tuesday night, when that school committee met in the Roman House, on Church Street, in Wilmington. The Regional School Committee is meeting in other towns than Billerica, in a get-acquainted type of schedule.

Seated: L to R: Frank McLean, Wilmington; Chairman Walley Haigh, Burlington; Treasurer Ken Buffum, Billerica; John Murphy, Burlington; Wilson Brazile, Tewksbury; Business Manager Robert Brooks; Phase II Co-ordinator Joseph Bastable.

Standing are: Joseph Gorman, Asst. Supt.; Joseph Rogers, Bedford; Charles Freni, Bedford; Executive Secretary Virginia Browder and Superintendent Benjamin Wolk.

To ask for $1.5 million in Tewksbury town meeting

Voters at the June 25th town meeting in Tewksbury will be asked to appropriate more than $1.5 million for town projects. They will be asked, too, to cut the number of hours of police work from 40 a week to 37.5.The quorum for the meeting will probably be 478.

Major funds requested will be used for the Water Department to keep step with the town's growth. The water commission seeks $980,000 for a fully equipped water treatment plant, and $510,000 to develop new wells and to lay new mains.

Most of the treatment facility would be funded through a 20 year bond issue. The well and main work would be funded entirely through a 15 year bond issue.

Funds totalling $19,000 appropriated for various water department purposes from 1968 - 1972 would be transferred to the water treatment plant account through another article sponsored by the water commission.

Seek 37.5 hours weekly

A reduction in the work week for members of the police department is requested by the Tewksbury Police Relief Assn. If voters approve the new schedule by amending the personnel law, each six days police would have four days on duty and two days off, for a total 37.5 hours a week.

The department was on a four - two schedule through most of 1972 until the selectmen learned of the reduced work week, which was put into effect without their approval. On the selectmen's orders a five - two schedule has been in effect since.

A major school committee article in the town meeting warrant would ask voters to approve a two-part request for legislation concerning a new high school. The legislature would be requested to allow the department of public health (DPH) to turn over 90 acres of Tewksbury State Hospital land to the town in return for the hospital's gaining free dumping privileged forever in town waste disposal facilities.

Request repeats 1972's

The 1972 town meeting asked the legislature to allow the DPH to give the land to the town, and the legislature approved the permissive legislation. The DPH, however, never transferred the land, and the state has since asked the 1972 action be repealed, according to Rep. Frank A. Antonelli.

The state, he said, now will only transfer the land to the town if the town disposes of hospital waste for free. The state believes this is necessary, he explained, because the 90 acres the town wants includes the hospital's privately operated dump.

Antonelli was skeptical about the state's new attitude, and questioned at a selectmen's meeting whether disposing of the hospital's trash forever might not cost the town more than the land is worth. He said the voters should make the decision.

A road commission article would ask for an unspecified sum of money to survey, engineer and pay legal fees to solve plot line difficulties in the Oakland Park area of South Tewksbury. Studies recently showed the area wasn't properly laid out originally, and few road and property lines are l cated where owners believed them.

The commission's engineer, Lawrence C. Allen, has estimated the surveying, engineering and legal fees involved would take less than three months and cost less than $20,000 to complete. Allen said the exact location of South, Brown, Lake and Main streets will be determined together with the Boston & Main abandoned roadbed and the town line. With this information, he said, the exact location of smaller streets in the area could be determined later.

The road commission also seeks $12,000 to repair and maintain machinery and $20,000 to provide more drainage work.

Ask added clerk

A clerk who would work on an as needed basis in all town departments is sought for $6,595 a year. An employe performing these duties now is paid through federal Emergency Employment Act funds, which are due to be phased out shortly. The police department also seeks $5,000 to hire a police cadet.

The park commission seeks $2,-100 to pay a part-time employee to help maintain and care for town parks. Another $1,040 is sought for a part-time secretary for the commission.

The park commission also seeks funds for a number of projects. These include either $1,500 for a used pickup truck or $3,700 for a new vehicle, $700 to remove the town center flagpole, $4,700 to buy a new one, $4,500 to better operate parks and $5,000 to maintain the youth center.

The selectmen sponsor an article asking the state legislature to approve a referendum vote on whether the town should reaffirm or repeal its acceptance of a state law providing 21 days vacation for patrolmen with five to 10 years experience and 28 days for men with 10 years experience.

Request referendum

The 1972 town meeting approved a similar request for a referendum in 1972, but apparently the outgoing state representative, Kevin C. Sullivan, never filed a bill requesting the legislative act on the matter.

The planning board seeks $2,500 to prepare new zoning maps of the town, and $3,000 to mail a copy of the new map to each voter with a copy of the 1973 town meeting warrant. Another $2,000 is sought by the board to prepare maps of flood plain and conservancy districts in the town.

The sewer commission will ask for an undisclosed sum for more surveying and legal fees.

Two historical commission articles are aimed at preserving the 160-year-old Kittredge - Gray House, which will otherwise be torn down in Tewksbury Center triangle within months to make way for a gas station. One article would seek an undisclosed sum of money to move the building to a school department site and build a foundation for it. The other article would authorize the school department to turn the site over to the commission.

Strikes drinking problem

The Tewksbury Police Relief Assn. asks the town to establish a bylaw prohibiting drinking of alcoholic beverages on public ways on on public property, parks or playgrounds or on private property without the consent of the owners.

Town selectmen have asked that the Dewing School Building Committee be abolished.

The auxiliary police have asked $450 for a radio for their new patrol car. Office furniture totalling $245 is asked by the health board to provide for the town's new health director. The conservation commission asks town authorization to request fees from applicants who seek public hearings under the wetlands protection act.

Voters will be asked to rescind a 1969 special town meeting authorization to provide $63,000 to repair fire damage at Tewksbury Memorial High School. Insurance has already reportedly paid for the damage.

Town selectmen learned June 12 the quorum for the town meeting will be 478 unless the attorney general's office approves the zero quorum set by the March town meeting.

Antonelli, who is also chairman of the selectmen, said he contacted the attorney general's office and learned that office has many such articles to act on. Approval of the zero quorum seemed unlikely by June 25, Antonelli said.

Michele Lombard awarded Christian Herter Scholarship

Miss Michele Lombard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lombard of 74 Glen Road Wilmington has been awarded a Christian A. Herter Memorial Scholarship by the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education, in Boston.

The scholarship will provide 50 of the student budget at an institution of higher learning, for four years.

Miss Lombard, the Valedictorian of the Class of 1973 in Wilmington High Schools plans to attend Bates College, in Maine, and major in biology and science. She is also the recipient of a Bates College scholarship.

An outstanding student, a member of the Math League, Miss Lombard was the co-editor of the Year Book, was on the basketball team, and was elected a Student Selectman in her senior year.

Cain victory in parking lot bill

The bill to abolish the parking lot, on northbound Route 93 in North Wilmington was given a favorable report, yesterday afternoon in the State House by the Committee on Transportation. The bill had been introduced by Rep. Fred F. Cain of Wilmington. Thirty-five Wilmington residents appeared at the hearing yesterday, in support of the bill.

Cain told the committee that no substantial benefit could result by retaining the rest area, as it is halfway between Boston and the New Hampshire line, which is only 35 minutes driving time. There is a substantial and well policed parking area at the New Hampshire line, he pointed out, equipped with toilets and running water.

Massachusetts DPW Engineer Robert Tierney appeared in opposition to Cain's bill.

Cain also pointed out that there are 50 homes of Wilmington residents within a quarter of a mile of the rest area, which has been the scene of many objectionable activities.

The bill has been placed on the House calendar for June 18th. Rep. Ray Rourke, chairman of the Transportation Committee will appear for the bill, in the House of Representatives.

Water articles appear in Town Meeting warrant

There are three articles in the warrant for the Special Town Meeting of June 25, in Wilmington, pertaining to the Wilmington Water Department.

Article 28 is the surprise. It seems to be a response to a discussion by the Wilmington selectmen Monday evening, and asks for a study of the cause of the problems of rusty water in the Wilmington water mains.

The commissioners are asking, under Article 8, for a study to improve the water system in the northeast part of Wilmington. This possibly is a response to discussions with the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

Article 21 seeks to have the town accept a grant of a piece of land off lower Woburn Street, where it is proposed to erect a small water station with a pressure pump, so as to improve water pressures on Industrial Way. The improvement of pressures would be for fire fighting purposes.

MAJOR STEP TAKEN FOR YOUTH CENTER'S COMPLETION

Tewksbury Park Cmsr. John Leslie has announced that work on a septic system for the youth center will probably be completed by June 30. The system is the last major work needed for the center.

Dispute over reserve patrolmen solved after police swap charges

Police Lt. Walter J. Jop Sr. has told the Tewksbury selectmen he will provide jobs for three reserve patrolmen who recently complained he hadn't called them for many months. Jop's promise came during a meeting in which he and the reserves and a regular patrolman swapped charges over special assignments.

A regular patrolman, Thomas E. Flynn launched the heaviest attack on Jop. The lieutenant, Flynn alleged, practiced favoritism in assigning regular men for special jobs.

Certain members of the department, Flynn charged, got preference for jobs, while others were only called, often at the last minute, when Jop knew they had classes to go to or other conflicting activities. "It's a stacked deck," Flynn said.

The lieutenant answered that many businessmen asked for specific men for assignments, and he believed they had that right.

Jop said he hadn't called reserves Walter J. Stanwyck, Joseph F. DeLucia, Jr. and David M. Casey because they were seldom available for assignments. He questioned why they didn't complain to him about not being called, and said in his position he would have made sure police knew when they were available for work.

Says he needed selectmen's aid

Casey said he was called for special assignments several times after he complained to the selectmen several weeks ago, but before then hadn't been called since June 17, 1972. He said he never refused a job except when one conflicted once with his regular working hours.

Jop answered that his men tried to call Casey several times, but either no one answered or someone told them Casey was ill. On another occasion someone told him Casey wasn't interested in further reserve work, and Jop ceased calling him.

Casey commented that he left several memoranda at the police station informing police where they could find him. He said he tried to contact Jop several times, but couldn't reach him.

DeLucia complained that he only got assignments after he complained to the selectmen once last year and once recently. Jop answered that there was a major cut in work for reserves because bars weren't required to have police on duty anymore, and regular men had first chance at special assignments under the police contract.

Jop said Stanwyck wasn't called because working hours of his regular job conflicted for a long period with special assignments. He added that of five times he called Stanwyck recently, Stanwyck turned down two jobs. Stanwyck answered that on the occasions he refused recently, he was either sick or had previous plans he couldn't cancel at the last minute.

Jop said after he learned the three men were interested in working he started giving them assignments. "If these men want to work, I'm willing to give them work," he added. He said, however, it was up to him which jobs they would work.

During the meeting, Jop countered criticism levelled at him recently for allegedly not attending several meetings with the selectmen. He said he only failed to appear once at a selectmen's meeting to which he was invited. He said he had other plans on that night.

In a related matter, Chief John F. Sullivan promised to provide the selectmen records of what men were on duty during each shift. Chairman Frank A. Antonelli suggested the board wanter personnel information on all town police to aid them in considering men for promotions and other activities.

The selectmen agreed to specify what they wanted at some future date after Sullivan and Jop said the administrative work load of providing all personnel information on all men was prohibitive.

Wants records

Antonelli said he wanted more information on individual police because on several occasions, he alleged, some of the chief's personal records on his men disappeared. Sullivan answered that

If you're a real amateur, you need to know that there are two ways of holding a hammer when driving a nail. If the hammer is large and the nail needs to be started, hold the hammer near the head and start the nail with light taps.

Then shift your grip to the end of the handle. This will give you more leverage and force when you hit the nail and will help drive it in faster. Nails that do not go in straight or that bend should be discarded.

See just how easy and convenient shopping can be when you come to Sweezey Home Courtesy Center, 615 Main St., 658-2051. We handle a full line of unfinished furniture including hardwoods, Oziet and Ludlow carpeting in many patterns and colors (installation handled) hand tools, Rockwell power tools and hardware. BankAmericard and Master Charge honored. Open: 8 am to 5 pm daily and 8 am to 9 pm on Friday. For Father's Day we still have a nice selection of power tools.

Helpful Hint: A hammer with a plain face is easier for an amateur to use.

The Tompte in the Planning Board Office

Nearly everyone knows what a Leprechaun is - those little fellows in green who have been playing around with Paddy and his friends since the year One.

And nearly everyone knows about the Gremlins, who used to fly with the pilots of the Royal Air Force in World War II, and cause all sorts of piquant troubles.

A Troll, perhaps, is not as well known, but they live behind waterfalls, and in the deep forests of Norway and are sometimes seen by passers by.

Least known of all are the Tompte of Denmark. They must be related to the Leprechauns and Gremlins and Trolls, but they do not have any Public Relations office.

Viewed from the human viewpoint, Tompte are both very charming and a source of dread. They are expected to do cute things, like stroking the fur of a cat, by the fireside, until the fur sparks. They do other things too - innocently, like milking the cows all night long, and that makes the farmers very angry - but there isn't much that the farmer can do about it.

Most farmers put out a dish of gruel every night for Tompte, near the fireplace. A dish of gruel might save the farmer and his wife from a lot of trouble. And it might be remarked that Tompte live for hundreds of years - at least no one has ever seen a dead Tompte.

There was the Tompte for instance who scrubbed the kitchen floor every night - with ashes. The husfru would keep the floor clean all day long, and then at night the Tompte would get it dirty - only he thought he was cleaning it. Finally the farmer and his wife had had all they could stand. They sold their farm and bought another, some five miles away, and at ten o'clock in the morning, when the Tompte should be fast asleep, they packed all their household goods into a wagon and off they went.

After they had gone a couple of miles there was a little noise in back, and the farmer and his wife looked around. There was the Tompte, getting out of the dishes.

"Hey", he said, "I see we are moving!"

One of the places in Denmark where Tompte can be found is the village of Vestervig, which is on the west coast, and was the place from which Sven Forkbeard launched his invasion of England, about a thousand years ago. Not many people can talk about Sven Forkbeard, but his son was Canute the Dane, the man who told the waves to stay still. Everybody knows about Canute.

There was one farmhouse in Vestervig in which no farmer would live if he had two or three daughters, for that farmhouse had a Tompte who thought all farmer's daughters should be the same height. The farmers of Vestervig found out about this many years ago, when a farmer who lived in that farmhouse had three daughters, one aged six, one aged eight and one aged ten.

The Tompte moved into that farmhouse, and at night he went into the room where the girls were sleeping, all in one bed.

From the head of the bed, at the pillow end, everything was regular and even, and the Tompte was happy. Then he trudged down to the foot of the bed, and there everything was irregular. The girls feet didn't match up, not by six inches or so!

So the Tompte took hold of the feet that were short and pulled them down, so all three pair of feet were even, and lined up in a row.

Then he went back to the head of the bed - and lo and behold where there had been three heads in a row there was now an uneven sequence of heads on the pillows.

So he grabbed the heads that were short and pulled them up, so everything was nice and even. Then he went down to look at the feet again.

It is easy to see why a farmer with daughters did not want to live on that farm!

The point of all this is that the Wilmington Planning Board must have a Tompte hiding away somewhere in one of its filing cabinets, and that Tompte wants all business lots to go "regular", with the same number of feet in front and in back, and all boundaries to be straight lines, and the lines to be drawn at right angles, one to the other.

The Tompte wants all business lots to be 100 feet wide. He wants all the streets at right angles and all the boundaries.

It is a nice idea, but it doesn't work out well in Wilmington.

Last year the Tompte had the Planning Board do this to General Business lots. The Planning Board didn't really understand, but what happened was that two General Business lots in Wilmington were "unzoned" by the town vote - one belonging to the publisher of the Town Crier, being at the old railroad station in North Wilmington. The other lot of land which has been unzoned is in Wilmington Square, and is sixty feet wide.

This year the Planning Board's Tompte has the same thing coming up, in the next Special Town Meeting, for Neighborhood and General Business zoning.

Everyone knows the Tattersall News Agency, at the corner of Grove Ave., and Main St.

If the proposals of the Planning Board Tompte are voted in the Town Meeting, Hap Hourihan, who owns that store, will be "unzoned". Cottage Street is not at right angles to Main Street, and there is nothing that Hap can do to make it at right angles, but he will be "punished" for this fact. If, five or ten years from now, Hap goes down to the Building Inspector for a permit to add two or three feet to his chimney, or something similar, the Building Inspector will say "Sorry". Hap will have only Non-Conforming rights - and he will have to go to the Board of Appeals, to get a right to go to the Building Inspector.

Of course that's a lot of nonsense - but that's the way it will be.

Bessie Cohen, who owns the land where Wilmington Grain is located will have the same trouble. The railroad runs in back of her property in a curved line. It isn't straight, like the Tompte wants it to be. Bessie will have to go to the Board Appeals for the right to go to the Building Inspector, if she wants to make improvements on her property.

And there are many other business places in Wilmington that will be affected - needlessly so. What the Planning Board has kidded itself into thinking is an "improvement" in zoning is going to become a nuisance, and one that will make the properties less valuable - and hence pay less taxes.

Those members of the Planning Board had better learn how to put out a dish of gruel for Tompte.

An exchange of opinions

During the past few weeks things have been happening in the Wilmington Board of Selectmen which are just a little out of the usual.

A few weeks ago Selectman Mike Caira stopped Selectman Jim Miceli from correcting the minutes of a previous meeting - a habit Mr. Miceli has had for years, and which the other selectmen have allowed.

The corrections have always been in favor of Mr. Miceli, and when he offered some, a few weeks ago, Mr. Caira wanted to know why they should be accepted.

It ended up with the remaining selectmen sustaining Mr. Caira. That, in a quiet way, was the beginning.

And it is continuing, or seems to be. When Caira senses something is wrong he will speak up.

In Monday night's meeting there was another clash between Caira and Miceli.

It started with some expressed hopes on the part of the Historical Committee members on saving the Dr. Rounds house, in North Wilmington. The words "eminent domain" were used once or twice.

Daniel Gillis, selectman, had with him three prepared articles for the Special Town Meeting, one of which was to see if the town would take by eminent domain and later sell the Rounds house. Obviously Gillis was trying to save the house. Just as obviously he did not know that the law does not allow eminent domain proceedings for the process he described - eminent domain is for schools, for roads, for narrowly described proceedings, and not for later sale.

George Boylen spoke up to explain this point. Mike Caira sustained Mr. Boylen.

Mr. Miceli seemingly misunderstood the situation and argued that the Gillis article should be admitted because last week the Selectmen had voted to admit an article of a voter, on his signature alone. Miceli ended up with the words to the effect of "it's in the record".

Carefully and cooly, Caira read out loud the record of the previous meeting, at the point indicated.

Speaking to Miceli he said "Either you are a blatant liar, or I am".

Just as cooly, Miceli replied "Either you are a blatant liar, or I am".

TWO MEN ROB CUMBERLAND FARMS STORE

Two men, one armed with an automatic pistol, held up the Cumberland Farms store on Main Street in Wilmington June 11 during the rush hour, police said.

A woman employe said the man entered the store, which had no customers at the time, and threatened her with a pistol before they escaped on foot with $400.

One robber was described as five foot eight inches tall, with dark curley hair. She said the other was about six feet tall and had long blond hair. Both men were in their early twenties, according to the woman.

The case is being investigated by Sgt. George Shepherd and patrolmen William Gable and Michael McKenna.

Bits & Pieces

Tie a yellow ribbon around the old oak tree is part of the wording of a current song hit. It has nothing to do with the yellow pollen, now to be found here and there around the country.

That yellow pollen comes from pine trees, and was busy floating around the air, Sunday, looking for pine cones to pollinate, when there was a sudden rain shower. Every little puddle, all around the country-side had its yellow trim, as a result.

That should end the story - but it doesn't.

People have been calling the Town Crier and the Tree Department. They are afraid that the yellow stuff they see on the ground where the puddles were has something to do with the spraying of mosquitoes. Somehow there is a fear in their hearts that the yellow stiff will turn out to be poison.

It isn't. There are people who are allergic to rose pollen, and there are people who are allergic to ragweed pollen. Possibly there are people who are allergic to pine tree pollen too, and if so the yellow stuff may be described as being poison to those people - but to no one else.

The Earl Ellsworth's of 45 Forest St., Wilmington are fairly bursting with pride - and justifiably so!! Following 19 years of "dogged stick-to-itiveness" Dad has become a college graduate.

Earl Ellsworth was among the graduating seniors at Fitchburg State College on June 3rd, where he received his BA Degree in Industrial Science. During the 19 years in which he has been studying, Mr. Ellsworth supported his wife and seven children, and fought several bouts with serious illness.

Feeling that it was too expensive a luxury, Mr. Ellsworth decided not to order his class ring, but "the wife and kids" took care of that - they pooled their resources and Earl is going to have the class ring he so richly deserves.

CONCOM RECOMMENDS TOWN TAKE AMES POND

The Tewksbury conservation commission has reportedly suggested the town take Ames Pond for use as a reservoir.

The commission has written the selectmen and water commission suggesting the town take the man-made lake by eminent domain. The proposal was reportedly one of four made by the commission as an alternative to the town's eventually going to the Merrimac River as a source of water, as suggested by the water commission.

Recently this column wrote of the "war" being conducted by Betty Spahl of Woburn Street, Wilmington and an over-friendly raccoon, who insisted on scratching at the back door of the Spahl home.

The story did not end with the episode reported. The raccoon, which is big and fat, is the special friend of "Duddie" Lord, a 28 year old who lives nearby, in what old-timers will call the "Edie Symms" house. Anyone who has been in Wilmington over 10 years is an old timer.

Since the story appeared that raccoon has made return visits, and slept on the back porch of the Spahl family, lying there in the sun, just like a cat. No one seems to know if friend raccoon has a name, but presumably Duddie calls him something.

The Town Crier was in error last week when it reported that several graduating seniors received the Kevin Nolan Scholarship Award. There was in fact, only one such award, presented to Tom Aprile. The others mentioned were straight Booster Scholarships.

WILMINGTON LITTLE LEAGUE

Seniors...The Tigers outscored the Red Sox, 11-10 last Saturday afternoon, while the Orioles whipped the Yankees and Indians to keep both clubs deadlocked for the second half divisional lead. On Monday night the Yankees, behind the pitching of Richie Medeiors, whippMedeiros, whipped the Yanks, 103.

Majors...The Twins extended their divisional lead to two full games over the Yankees splitting their two recent outings. On June 6th Coach Enos' squad topped the Angels, 9-3, as Billy Liston became the first player to hit a homer into the tennis courts at the North Field. Liston's blast was good for four rbi's and broke open a close affair. In other action the Tigers outslugged the Red Sox, 24-14 in a make-up contest, while the Indians edged the White Sox, 5-4 with a pair of runs in the last of the sixth. The Red Sox won their next outings, posting 6-5 and 11-6 wins over the Orioles and Yankees respectively. The Yankees nipped the Tigers, 5-4 last Thursday and on Friday the Angels behind the pitching of Dicky Dickson whipped the Orioles, 3-1. Saturday the Twins extended their win streak to five with a 9-3 triumph over the Tigers behind the fine hurling of Billy Liston. On Monday the White Sox scored two runs in the seventh inning to knock off the divisional leaders, 5-4 with Jimmy Hachey picking up the win in relief of starter Paul Bush, who had matched the Twins Todd Richard for six innings. Marty Sullivan drove in the winning run with a single in the extra frame.

Minors...The Cubs moved into undisputed possession of the league lead with a 3-0 triumph over the Cards in a battle of the leaders. Archie Deleter tossed a three-hitter to pick up the win for the Cubs.

SUBURBAN PONY LEAGUE

Wed. June 6th...Chris Rounds (2-1) tossed a strong four hit shut out to lead the Mavericks to a 2-0 triumph over the Ravens. In winning their third straight the Mavs scored all the runs they needed in the third frame as Bob Sferrazza and Tony Gravellese knocked in one run each. Sferrazza also sparkled defensively with a pair of assists in center field, including throwing out a runner at first.

Mavericks	002 000 0-2
Ravens	000 000 0-0

Thurs. June 7th...The divisional leading Wildcats posted their fourth consecutive win, defeating the Red Sox, 7-2 in an abbreviated contest called after 4½ innings due to stormy weather. Bob Dorval (1-0) in his initial start of the season allowed three hits in a gutty performance as he walked seven and this kept him in trouble. Dan Hurley and Ray Guad knocked in a pair of runs each to lead the offensive attack.

Red Sox	020 00-2
Wildcats	322 0x-7

Sat. June 9th...The Stoneham Hawks snapped the Mavericks three game win skein with a convincing 10-4 triumph over Coach Foster's nine. Jim Stewart (1-1) took the loss allowing all ten runs and 14 hits in a sixth inning stint. Tom Griffin mopped up allowing only one hit in the final frame. Les Peabody went 2 for 3 and scored a pair of runs. Randy Foster and Pete McNaughton had rbi singles to aid the offensive attack, but it was not enough to offset a strong Hawk showing.

Hawks	410 401 0-10
Mavericks	301 000 0- 4

Coach Hurley's boys continued to roll a thumping the Ravens, 8-1 behind the seven hit pitching of Charlie Sullivan (3-0). Bob Aprile (2/4), Dan Hurley (2/4), Mark Blaisdell (2/4) led the Wildcats attack, while the Ravens pitching contributed eight walks to the Wilmington scoring attempts. Tonight the Wildcats host the powerful Stoneham Hawks in an inter-divisional clash between the leading clubs in the league.

Wildcats	111 010 4-8

WRLS DAY BY DAY

Friday, June 8th: Dave Newhouse twirled a neat five-hitter and allowed only two runs as Jay-Dee rapped Brewsters, 12-2. Ethier doubled in the third frame to score Dan Stewart and Joe Bulger with the tieing and winning runs. Ken Alley was the losing pitcher, giving up 12 hits and eight runs. Alley needed relief help from Gary Smith...John Smalley and Steve Cail each singled in a run in the first inning to give K of C a 2-0 lead, but a two-run four-bagger by Murphy in the fourth pulled out Silver Lake's seventh win. Silver Lake got three runs in the third and fourth innings to end the Knights short-lived lead and beat K of C, 9-4. Dave Rumson was the winning twirler giving up only seven hits, and upped his pitching slate to 7-0. Jim Hachey recorded the loss.

Sunday, June 10th: Polychemical kept its suprising comeback alive by crushing McNamara Tire, 17-3. Poly wacked the Mac hurlers for a total of 15 hits, five of which were extra base hits. Landry doubled in the second inning to knock in what proved to be the tieing and winning runs for Polychemical. Paul Burke turned in the effective pitching job to earn the win, and Paul Warford recorded the loss...Silver Lake pulled out of a 7-2 hole to comeback and beat Sweetheart, 15-10. With a 10-10 tie going into the seventh frame, Silver Lake picked up five runs on four hits and no errors. Sweetheart wacked Rumson for four home runs, two of them were by Ed Doherty. The win put Silver Lake's slate to 8-0...In the night-cap, Miceli pulled out a ten-run first inning and coasted to a 13-10 victory over Compugraphic. CG never stopped fighting as they rallied for an eight run-seven hit fourth inning, but the attack fell short in the seventh. Paul Olson picked up the pitching win and handled a very effective bat.

Monday, June 11th: Jay-Dee rallied for four runs in the sixth inning to pull out a 8-6 win over Smithcraft. Bob Hastings doubled to drive in the seventh and eighth runs for Jay-Dee, and that was all the "veterans" needed to win. John McCormick handled a hot bat with a triple and two singles in the losing effort for Smithy. Artoro Delliacono was the losing pitcher, and Dave Newhouse picked up the win...Tabby lowered their slate to 0-8 by virtue of losing to Soderholm, 10-4. Jim Murry, the winning hurler, hit a sacrifice fly to center to score Dave Norton from third base with what proved to be the game winning run in the second frame. John Loder recorded the loss.

Tuesday, June 5th: Nick Katramados hit a two run homer in the top of the third inning to cap off a five run rally and drive in what proved to be the game winning run, as Sweetheart beat Jay-Dee, 6-5. Buzzy Coulliard picked up the hurling victory. Dave Newhouse was the losing pitcher and drove in the first two runs in the first frame on a two-run base hit...In the nightcap, Silver Lake Pharmacy upped its slate to 6-0 by virtue of defeating Smithcraft, 8-0. Righthander Dave Rumson and the spectacular team behind him held Smithy to only three hits. You can't win a ball game on only three singles. Silver Lake was held to a 0-0 score for three innings, but they used their usual explosive style to score three runs in the fourth, two in the sixth, and three in the seventh. Art Bibeau doubled to drive in the first two runs and homered to knock in two more.

Wednesday, June 6th: Chuck Casey singled in the third inning to drive in what proved to be the tying and winning run as McNamara brought its slate to 2-4 by slaughtering cellar dwelling Tabby, 9-2. Mac wacked a total of 13 hits, one homer and three doubles were the highlights. K of C got back into the swing of things and evened their slate to 3-3 as the Knights edged Miceli, 10-9. The Knights tallied for five runs in the last of the seventh frame to pull out the victory. Don White singled to score Brehm from third with what proved to be the game winning run.

Thursday, June 7th: Polychemical wacked in nine runs in the fourth inning to pull out a come from behind victory over Napa, 15-14. Dick Butt hit a sacrifice grounder to third to drive in what proved to be the game winning run in the second frame. Willy Whalen was the winning hurler.

WILMINGTON SPRING HOCKEY

Mite A's (8-1-1)...The Mites finished the regular spring season on a winning note Monday night, whipping Burlington, 2-0 at the Youth Ice Arena. By virtue of this win the A's gained sole possession of second place, while missing the top spot by a single game.

John LaLiberte scored the first goal and game winner midway into the opening frame assisted by E. Harding. In the last frame John provided an insurance goal with J. Palmer and S. Larson assisting. The goaltending tandem of Sunnerberg and O'Connell along with the defensive units provided the fourth shut out of the ten game season.

The Mites now move into a ghree game playoff starting next week. Opponents will include top ranked Stoneham, Burlington and Arlington.

Squirt B's...The B's crushed North Reading last Sunday morning at the Arena, 8-0 in their seasonal finale. Three goals in the opening periods off the sticks of Dave Elliott, Ted Moran and George Boudreau gave Wilmington a quick 3-0 lead and it was all over for North Reading.

Second period goals by Frank Neward (2), Chuck McNeil, Daryll MacDonald and Chris Turner rounded out the scoring as both clubs played even in the final stanza. North Reading managed only two shots on the Wilmington goalies in the one-sided affair.

Squirt A's (8-1-2)...The A's played to a 1-1 tie against a tough, hard skating Burlington sextet last Sunday at the Arena. Wilmington had the edge in territorial play and shots on net. Burlington's goalie was tough and held back the continual Wilmington attack.

In the opening period Bob Forrestal scored for the A's with an assist from Mark Boudreau. However, Burlington came back to tie the score while Wilmington was a man short. Mike Taylor and Stretch Storer were sharp in the A's net when they were tested.

Pee Wee B's (7-1-2)...The B's held on to a tight close checking 1-1 draw against a tough Woburn club. After a scoreless opening period, Richie Robinson put Wilmington ahead early in the middle frame on a fine individual effort.

Woburn came right back in the last stanza to knot the score at one. Ricky Ballou played an excellent game in the nets turning back numerous Woburn thrusts.

Bantam C's...The C's dropped a close match in their recent outing bowing to Nashforn, N.H., 4-3. After a scoreless opening period, Jim Logan picked up a pair of goals for Wilmington with assists being picked up by Ken Morse (2) and John Fahey.

In the last frame Joe LaLiberte scored for the C's with Steve Theriault assisting, but to no avail.

In other action the C's topped Billerica (4-1) and Tewksbury (6-4).

Bantam A's (8-6-0)...The A's lost both of their recent outings to conclude their spring season. On June 4th Cambridge ripped the Wilmington Bantams, 8-3 jumping out to a quick 2-0 first period lead. In the middle frame Wilmington scored three times, as Gordie Fitch, Bob Kohler and Al Willson put the A's in front 3-2. It was all down hill after that as Cambridge scored at 7:44 and 11:48 to take the lead for good. Four last period markers vy the visitors provided the final margin of victory.

Last Monday the A's out shot North Reading by a wide 31-16 advantabe, but came away shorthanded, dropping a 3-2 decision. Steve Pellerin scored the initial goal of the contest at 2:04 of the opening period with Bob Olson assisting. North Reading answered at 7:27 to tie it. Midway into the second frame Gordie Fitch made it 2-1 Wilmington when he blasted an unassisted tally past the North Reading netminder at 9:49. Less than a minute later North Reading tied the score once again and at the 19 second mark of the last period scored the game winner.

The A's applied pressure in the third frame in an attempt to pull it out, out-shooting North Reading 16-2, but the visitors goalie was equal to the task.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL LEAGUE PROPOSED IN TEWKSBURY

The Tewksbury recreation commission is interested in starting a Women's Softball League. Because of the great success of the girls softball last summer, when a few girls who inquired about softball grew into an organized league of over 200. The recreation commission has placed Cmsr. Any women who are interested in these activities or position, that does not involve a salary, should write to the Recreation Commission.

Sil Maglio is responsible for starting this program, plus girls softball, bowling, and the bowling program for exceptional children, which has grown into a full time program under the directorship of Mary Lou Morris.

Bishop was entered in the discus and his toss of 107 feet, with a much heavier disc, was somewhat less than expected, yet respectable. Bruce also participated in the 100 yard dash and finished fourth in his heat during the trials, which put him into the finals. In the finale, Bruce ran against runners of the calibre of Dr. Merriweather Pendalton of UMass. Bishop placed seventh with a time of 10.5.

Tim Nee, a sophomore at Wilmington High ran in the 440 in 53.6 good for seventh considering the heat of the artificial track. Jack Barry a WHS graduate participated in the meet representing the UMass Track Club. Jack turned in a 15.4 in the 120 high hurdles and a 58.1 in the 440 intermediate hurdles. Wilmington Selectmen ditional eight pages of exhibits has been prepared by the Wilmington Solid Waste Disposal Committee, and was reviewed by the Selectmen and Chairman Donald White.

The Selectmen said that the report was a very good one, and went over it in some detail with Mr. White.

Mr. White also discusses points not in the report, viz:

It is the committee feeling that the town of Wilmington does not need a Cadillac type of solid waste disposal facility, but rather a Ford type. At the present time they feel, it is a Model T type, but anything more costs the town a lot of money.

Mr. White said that he personally is in favor of the town collecting both rubbish and garbage, but that collection is the most expensive part.

Part of the problem that Governor Sargent has, Mr. White said, was that towns will not accept community planning and cannot provide their own.

It will take three to five years, White said, before the Governor's program can be implemented.

Should the Solid Waste Disposal Committee look into things like recycling? Incinerator? What about North Reading? etc.

On motion of Mr. Boylen it was voted unanimously that the Solid Waste Committee should engage an engineering firm, to look into studies of the three sites recommended by the committee for solid waste disposal.

White was also told that, with the permission of the owner, the present dump site should be surveyed to find out if there were parts of it that were acceptable and could be used.

There wasn't much discussion of Clarence Spinazola, the present contractor, during the evening, but at one time there was an expression of opinion that it might be wise to hire him to operate the town dump, if it should turn out to be in the land adjacent to the present dump. There was also an expression of opinion that it might turn out that the present dump facilities could be used in conjunction with some part of the operations of the future.

Other business

Selectman Boylen wants the by-law changed, where it relates to horse shows and carnivals. It has been said that when the Selectmen grant licenses for either of these events the licenses are illegal.

Mr. Boylen was talking of the horse shows, which is half the problem, and the Town Manager was instructed to see if an article could be included in the warrant, with the help of Town Counsel, which would make such licenses clearly legal, when issued. The vote was unanimous.

Mr. Boylen also sought to clear up an ambiguity in the by-laws, which prohibits sale of liquors in restaurants which are located in General Business zones. There was recently a Board of Appeals hearing because of this point.

Boylen said that, because of the Town Vote, he thought the town should change to conform with the state laws.

Miceli said he was opposed, and was in favor of all restrictions. He was in favor, though, of a license for a motel.

Philip Merriam, Librarian of Wilmington, sent a note to the Selectmen saying that the University of New Hampshire Theatre Program would be in Wilmington from 12:30 to 3 pm on Monday, August 13th.

About 300 children are expected to attend, Merriam advised, and it was accordingly thought wise if the program were to be held on Wilmington Common, with the Barrows Auditorium being requested as a stand-by, in case of rain.

The permit to use the common was unanimous.

New business

George Boylen discussed Nova Devices, of Woburn Street, the firm that had been turned down for a hydrogen permit several weeks ago. Mr. Boylen had come to the conclusion that it would be wise to ask Dr. John Silvers of Salem Street for advice on the subject. Dr. Silvers is a former Avco scientist, and is now the Director of the Massachusetts Science Foundation.

This was found to be agreeable, but there will be no opportunity for a conversation until sometime after the Town Meeting.

The Selectmen signed notes for $750,000.00 borrowed from the Commercial Bank and Trust, at rates between 4.5% and 4.75%, in anticipation of revenue.

Mr. Boylen commented on the fine job that had been done by town employees in cleaning up near Silver Lake, and Mr. Miceli commented on speeding cars on Grove Avenue.

Water Department

Then came the Water Department discussion. It was started by Mr. Gillis, and carried on by Boylen and Banda, for about half an hour. It ended with a suggestion by Jim Banda that the Selectmen have the Water Commissioners in for a "work session" some evening.

Mr. Gillis first remarked about the rusty water on Forest Street. Someone there has water which is always brown, Gillis said. He had been told by a Water Department employee that they were doing everything they could, but it might take a couple of years to get the rust out of the water.

People off Forest Street, Mr. Gillis said, with brand new pipes, came to me yesterday - they have rusty water. He also mentioned a hair dressing salon where, he said, you could get "rusty tints".

Boylen charged that the Water Department does not charge enough, especially for water supplied to industrial firms. He cited that the President of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce had said this very thing several years ago.

Boylen also thought that there could be a change in billing procedure. "I'm talking about the whole town - not just Forest Street - the Water Department does not raise enough money to operate properly".

Sterling Morris told the Selectmen that the water department had a system designed for 5000 people, and there are now 18,000. Two wells off Butters Row, he said, could not be operated, and two in the Town Park were only in part operation - iron ore in the water.

"If you want improvements it is going to cost over a million dollars" - "if you want all this you may have to give up the idea of betterments".

He continued - "if you are ready to spend the money, then I'll accept the responsibility".

He continued - "if you are ready to spend the money, then I'll accept the responsibility".

Boylen: You sound just like the Water Commissioners!

Gillis described how he had attend a Water Commissioners meeting, and had been surprised by the number of people there with complaints. "They are gentlemen whom I respect, but I got an awful bunch of innuendos from people living in this town".

Banda: "Let's not get emotional. Are you willing to support the Town Manager? It's going to cost money!" - "Shall we talk with the Water Department and say 'There are things that have to be done - and what do they cost?'"

Boylen: To Town Manager - You are the Town Manager. It is your responsibility.

Gillis: I go along with Boylen 100%

FIELD DAY: At the Woburn Street School last Saturday. Mary Ann Smallidge and Heidi Wiberg competing in a sack race for third and fourth grade girls. Heidi took a second, in the final heat.

BILLERICA MAN CONVICTED OF MOLESTING BOY, 13

A 25-year-old Billerica man was found guilty in Woburn District Court June 13 for molesting a 13-year-old Wilmington youth in the Bog area of Wilmington off Shawsheen Ave. June 6.

Victor H. Stanifort, of 21 Elm St., was sentenced to an indeterminate period at Concord Reformatory for committing indecent assault and battery on a child under 14 years old. Stanifort was also found guilty of assault and battery, and committing an unnatural act, and those convictions were placed on file.

Inspector John Harvey praised the youth for memorizing Stanifort's automobile registration number as well as providing a detailed description of the man and his vehicle. Harvy, aided by Sgt. Arthur Kelley and patrolmen Arthur Lynch and William Gavle was able to arrest Stanifort for the crime the day after the assault.

Hot temperature and hot temperatures at TMHS Graduation Ceremonies

The temperature went into the high eighties at Tewksbury Memorial High School's commencement exercises June 9 at the high school stadium, but more than a few students felt their temperatures rising as they awaited presentation of their deplomas.

Someone said the exercises were the best in anyone's memory, and few disputed the statement. Members of the school committee presented diplomas to 392 students. Most accepted the documents quietly, but a few students let out a whoop when they had their diplomas in their hands, and bounded away from the podium like antelope.

Other than the usual stately processional and recessional marches, music provided by the high school band was more from the swinging seventies than the summer of '42. Featured in musical interludes were numbers from the motion picture "Shaft," and the chorus sang songs from the Broadway Rock musical "Godspell."

Karen Burns, the class valedictorian, stressed the hard job students had ahead of them to improve the world. Rosan Rheault, who gave the salutatory, warned students not to blame the state of the world on the unseen, indefinable "they," but for students to abolish the concept of others being responsible for things and take the responsibility themselves.

For dozens of students the most exciting moment of the ceremonies came not when they received their diplomas, but when they received scholarships. Scholarships presented at the ceremony went to the following students:

Peter Brogna Memorial Scholarship, Richard Peirent; John E. Sheehan Scholarship (Tewksbury-Wilmington Emblem) Rosan Rheault; Robert Spires Memorial Scholarship, Charles D'Avanzo; Tewksbury Youth Baseball Award, Donald McGee; TMHS Student Council, Linda Doyle.

Senior Class Scholarships: Jean Bradanick, Deborah Comfort, Pamela Partridge, Gary Simpson, Linda Fraser, Eileen Gay and Joseph Lewis.

Rogers Scholarship, James Meuse; The Avco Scholarship, Timothy Breen; The Tewksbury Jayceettes, Eleanor Blakeney; Demoulas Scholarship, Raymond Wing.

The Rotary Scholarships, Rosan Rheault, Karen Burns, Cathy Collins, Brian Kenison, Ann Matarese, Laura Ferrierra, Jeanne Hill, Lisa Colarusso, Joan Whitehouse, Patricia McCarthy, Ronald Magee, Bryan White, Janet Thistle, Fern Doucette and Karen Dougherty.

It was also announced a total of $40,000 in scholarships from the college of their choice or from the state of Massachusetts: Armand Beliveau, Karen Burns, Steven Camarda, Lisa Colarusso, Susan Delorey, Laura Ferrierra, Eileen Gay, Patricia McCarthy, Ronald Magee, Walter Peterson, Agnes Romano, George Rocheleau, Edward Solon, Brian White and Raymond Wing.

THE SERIOUS AND THE NOT SO...

Karen Burns stressed the neeE for Tewksbury's graduEEting seniors to work to better the world.

But Patrick Callahan, replete with balloon on his mortar board took the occasion a good deal more lightly.

Antonelli was referring to a reprimand given a man. He added that he destroyed reprimands after several months if the men involved improved in performance of their duties.

The selectmen discussed an unsigned letter apparently prepared by a group of Tewksbury Memorial High School seniors, alleging major drug use at the high school and official indifference to the problem.

Antonelli commented that although the letter was unsigned, he asked his own hich school aged sons and a number of other teenagers about the allegations. The teenagers agreed with the allegations in the letter, he said.

Selectman Joseph J. Whelan stressed that the letter was unsigned, but added that any teenagers who wanted to speak to him on such matters could do so without fear of exposure.

In other business, the board dropped five reserve patrolmen from the force because of their apparent lack of interest in further work in that capacity.

The board agreed to seek another civil service list to fill an opening as regular patrolman in the police department. That action came because the four men on the list provided the board showed no interest in a Tewksbury post. All are from other communities.

The committee to study the building inspector's office agreed to concentrate on developing procedures to prevent construction of two homes on one lot of land, as happened on Michigan Road. Members will report to the selectmen on their progress August 14.

Tewksbury Market on Shawsheen Street was reprimanded for selling beer to a minor Memorial Day, and the case was placed on file.

Antonelli mulls legal action against town auditor

Chairman Frank A. Antonelli has suggested the Tewksbury selectmen take Town Auditor Thomas J. Berube to court over Berube's refusal to pay several salaries and bills, and has also suggested the board investigate Town Clerk John A. Hedstrom's office to determine if Hedstrom is performing his duties properly.

Antonelli's suggestions came at the end of a recent selectmen's hearing that ended at 1:30 a.m. The board took both suggestions under advisement, but took no other action.

The chairman was critical of Berube for refusing to pay park attendant Ernest Lightfoot a salary approved by the park commission, and refusal to give regular dog officer Robert Ryan the part-time dog officer's salary at the direction of the selectmen. Berube also refused to pay for police uniforms, Antonelli said.

Antonelli questioned Berube's right to refuse payment of the salaries or bills. Although Town Counsel Charles J. Zaroulis recently said Berube has the power, Antonelli said two attornies he contacted privately disagreed with Zaroulis' opinion.

Selectman Joseph J. Whelan commented that if the selectmen took Berube to court over the matter, it would tie the hands of Zaroulis. "He would have his own opinion staring him in the face," Whelan explained.

"I think the courts are the only way of settling an issue like this," said Selectman Richard A. Adams, Sr.

Antonelli said court action to decide the matter was needed because, he said, Berube refused to pay a new bill every week, and it was causing a great mixup. No one, however, motioned to have Zaroulis take action against Berube.

In discussing the Lightfoot case, Antonelli took a swipe at Town Clerk Hedstrom as being partly responsible for that and other problems in the town. Berube, according to Antonelli, based his refusal to approve the raise for Lightfoot on Hedstrom's minutes of the March town meeting, which created the job Lightfoot now holds.

According to Hedstrom's minutes, Antonelli said, the town meeting amended an article providing for the position to specify the exact sum to be paid the holder of the job.

Antonelli alleged there was no written record of the amendment. He alleged Hedstrom told him the amendment was made verbally, and Antonelli said verbal amendments aren't allowed on town warrant articles.

Antonelli said the special town meeting would have to have a quorum of 478 instead of the zero quorum passed in March. This, he said, was due to Hedstrom's submitting the zero quorum article for approval by the attorney general's office until May 3, and that office is now swamped with articles to approve.

Hedstrom, according to Antonelli, assured the selectmen the attorney general's office would approve the zero quorum before June 25. Antonelli said he personally visited the attorney general's office that day and got no such assurances.

The chairman also questioned why Hedstron was allegedly still selling outdated copies of the zoning bylaws and zoning maps until recently.

"I am personally disgusted with his activities of late," Antonelli said, adding that he would like to see Hedstrom's office investigated. Selectman Joseph J. Whelan questioned whether the selectmen had the power to investigate Hedstrom's office.

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS

by Louise

In the latter part of the sixteenth century, St. Vincent de Paul, a parish priest in the outskirts of Paris, made an outstanding contribution to health betterment. He was a man of great vision and understanding and worked toward the elimination of poverty and disease which he considered unnecessary evils.

He instituted the order of the Sisters of Charity, a group of nursing sisters who practiced public health nursing on an eight hour day schedule.
